This topic is going to be about my opinion for the fact that an increasing number of people today frequently change their careers and places of residence several times during their lives. ~~The~~ I am likely to say that it is a positive development. Firstly, we live once and If you want to change the direction right here and right now then you should do it. Maybe it will be the greatest decision in your life or at least you will not regret about you missed the chance. Secondly, person, who changes the career or residence can see different walks of life. The more you see, the smarter you become. And thirdly, I just think that it can make your future more intresting.

On the other hand, people who can not choose the only one place they want to live or work won't be really happy. Around their 40 some of them will look back and see nothing. Cause they have spent all life running from problems and making a new one.

But in conclusion I want to say that it definetly your life. And only you can understand which way is better for you. Now I am a high school student and my thoughts is about changing your life ~~ever~~ anytime you want it. Maybe when I will grow up I will prefer to ~~p~~ stay permament. ~~It depends~~.

Nowdays society has a strong progress and increase in different types of life. Everyday all people want to make their life much more better, new, interesting and comportable.

In my opinion, a fact that there are lots of people who change their career and place of residence is a quite positive development. In that case changing places of living can help us of better communication, don't waste our time for unneedy things.

As for me, in future I will be reall social person, because of travelling abroad and moving houses. Of course my life style will be changing too. That's my main goal, not to stay for a long time at the same place. About career, ~~I~~ w, from this age I am trying to find myself in this life. I have visited about 15 amazing different types of hobbies, but ~~doesn't~~ haven't found something for my soul yet.

I want to suggest everyone find themselves. Even if you have already changed thousands of cities, countries you shouldn't have stopped. It's better for you not to listen another opinions about your future, just ~~do your~~ go to your ~~long~~ ligelong way.

Nowadays a lot of people don't stay in one place of residence. Some people sure, that it is a positive development, Others ~~sure~~ think, that it has lots of disadvantages.

On the one hand, regular changing of the career really ~~have~~ has a lot of pluses. Firstly, it helps people to become more creative and intelligent, Because when people go to new job, they find a lot of new information. Also changing place of residence means, that people may find new friend, Because they will have new collegs. Finally, new work helps you to find a lot of good experiens~~es~~.

But on the other hand, regular changing career may have bad consiquenties. For example, a lot of companies stay without workers every year. Also it isn't easy to create good relaisianship with your new collegs. More then that, at the begining of your work you will be able to work harder, then before. You will be able to learn a lot of new information.

To sum up, we can't sure say, that changing career several times during live is a positive development. But I personally think, that this modern. It helps us to do our lifes more interesting. All in our hands.

Nowdays an increasing number of people change their careers and places of residence. Some of them have a serious reason of changing their job, or, for example, school, but the other part of them do it without certain porpose. I don't really think that changing places of residence is bad. From the one hand it's really good idea, but from the other hand it is really hard.

When people change ~~to~~ something in their ~~life~~ live, they can open for them something interesting and new. For example, if you change your job, you can find new college and meat new interesting people. If you change your school you can find new friends or classmates. And it's really cool. But a very huge number of people are ~~afraid~~ afraid of opening for them something new. They don't like to meat ~~new~~ friends, they don't like to communicate with somebody. They really like to be alone. They don't like to leave their comfortable ~~zone~~ place. So, I can say for 100% that this ~~people with~~ type of people doesn't like changing. For, example, ~~§~~ when I was 12 years old my parents told me to change my school. I was very sorry of it, but later I got a very huge experience.

In conclusion, I'd like to say that changes in our live are very good for us because we can learn, see and remember a lot of new information and ~~meat~~ find a lot of new friends.
